

The ISLP Poster Competition

The main objective of the Poster Competition is to promote critical statistical literacy and the usage of society-related information among the young. The aim of the competitors is to tell an interesting story using statistical tools and illustrate the research process and results in a statistical poster.

To this end, we provide an online repository of international resources and news in Statistical Literacy, international activities to promote the resources and the individuals and institutions behind them, and outreach activities to increase awareness.

Participating in the Poster Competition teaches the following skills:

- researching everyday questions using statistical data
- using and developing statistical, visual, literary and verbal skills
- interpreting statistical results and coming to conclusions
- group work.

The competition is geared towards middle schoolers, second-degree students (high school and vocational school) and Bachelor's level students (University and university of applied sciences).

The Poster Competition is organised every other year. The next competition begins on the 5th of January, 2022. The competition is composed of two parts. In the national competition, the winning posters from each country are selected, and they move onto the international competition.

Information about the poster competition

In the Poster Competition, the participants tell an interesting story using statistical tools and illustrate the research process and results in a statistical poster.

The Poster Competition is organised every other year. The poster themes vary each year. There is no theme for the 2022-2023 competition. The next competition begins on the 5th of January, 2022.